THE GREAT AUSTRALIAN HOLIDAY HOUSE

..... AND WE'RE BACK FOR 2015!

Summer holidays are a wonderful thing - whether it be by the sea or in the bush, there is a great sense of calm from being near a large body of water, under a canopy of trees and lazying about with the ones we love. So, in an attempt to prolong the vibe of the festive season, PROCESS is having a look at the great Australian holiday house and all the dreams and aspiration that come with it.

How to design for the weekend residence?

Three speakers discuss architecture and the natural landscape, and challenge the way we occupy temporally-conceived domestic space.

February 2nd, Loop Bar Myers Place.
